

Thistle Communities Community Land Trust (CLT) Homeownership Program

What is CLT homeownership?

The Thistle CLT has affordable ownership opportunities located throughout Boulder County. When a CLT home is initially sold, the land and the improvements are separated. The land is in the Thistle CLT, and the homebuyer owns the improvements. This partnership is guided by a 99-year renewable Land Lease, which has Fannie Mae approval. The homebuyer pays a nominal monthly fee (around $47-$64) to the CLT to help assist with the administration of the program. To keep the home affordable over time, there is a price restriction when the CLT home is resold.

How is a CLT home similar to a market-rate home?

A CLT home is subject to the whims of the real estate market. CLT owners have rights such as control over their environment, monthly payments and the ability to bequeath the home. CLT owners must maintain their homes, pay taxes on the home, and may sell their home when they choose to do so.

Program Criteria for Applicants:

- Be income and asset-qualified: (Complete the Boulder County Homeownership Programs Common Application and submit, along with supporting documents, to one of the participating agencies).
